

Southern Bell Given National Safety Award

The National Safety Council's Award of Honor has been presented to Southern Bell in Mississippi for its recognition of its 1961 safety record.

The award, highest presented by the Council, was presented by Mississippi area of Southern Bell by compiling a record of 3,271,700 man-hours without a disabling injury.

The Award of Honor is the highest recognition obtainable for outstanding safety record.

In presenting the award, Evans, executive director of the Mississippi Safety Council, said, "This Award of Honor is awarded by industry throughout the nation, and is presented only to those few whose employees have compiled an outstanding safety record such as Southern Bell has done over the past years."

Evans stated further that the Mississippi area of Southern Bell was consistently at the top of the ladder in safety, "often leading the entire Bell System."

In accepting the award, Lott complimented all employees and pointed out that John C. Underwood, plant manager for Southern Bell in Mississippi, was the sustaining force behind their safety program.

His interest in safety was pointed out when Lott said, "Mr. Underwood has long believed on the job safety to be only a part of a safety program. This is evidenced by his work with the Mississippi Safety Council."

Underwood served two terms as President of the Mississippi Safety Council, one as chairman of the board and is presently a member of the board of directors and executive committee. He was one of the first to push for the statewide citizens group.

Electronic Computer Center Slated For South

This modern, three-story building in Slidell, La., will soon become the NASA Michoud Operations' Computer Facility. The structure will house one of the largest high-speed electronic computer centers in the country, in support of the Saturn-manufacturing Michoud Operations in New Orleans. The main building is situated on a 13-acre fenced-in tract 23 miles from the Michoud plant. Also included in the facility is a maintenance building and a 600 by 1,000-foot paved parking lot.

NEW ORLEANS, LA. - One of the largest high-speed electronic computer centers in the country will be established at Slidell, La., to service the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Michoud Operations here, it was announced today.

Dr. George N. Constan, Michoud Operations manager, said the Computer Facility will be housed in a building recently turned over to NASA by the Federal Aviation Agency when the latter consolidated its air route traffic control centers at Slidell and San Antonio, Tex., in Houston, Tex.

The Michoud Operations, where future first stage boosters of the Saturn C-1 and advanced C-5 space vehicles will be manufactured, is a facility of the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala.

Present plans call for the installation to have two computer complexes: a scientific data processing complex, to be equipped with an IBM 7090, an IBM 1401 and a General Electric 225; and a management data processing complex, which will consist of one Minneapolis Honeywell 800 and two Honeywell 400 computers.

The scientific complex will be used to perform engineering calculations arising in the development, fabrication and testing of the Saturn S-1 and S-1C first stages. The management complex will process the multitude of data necessary to administer the unique Michoud Operations programs.

These computers are scheduled to be installed and operational in October, 1962, with the exception of the medium scale IBM 1401 which should be ready for use in August, 1962.

When fully equipped, the center will include the largest, most modern high-speed electronic computers available today.

It is further planned that a contract will be awarded to a contractor to build a new three-story, L-shaped structure, located 23 miles from the Michoud plant, to house the 100 NASA contractor personnel will be employed at the center by July, 1963. About 65 employees will be working there by November.

The Computer Facility will directly support the NASA-Michoud Operations management group, Chrysler Corp., S-1 stage contractor; The Boeing Co., S-1C stage contractor; and Mason-Rust, support services contractor. Chrysler and Boeing, however, will be major users of the computer service.

The new Slidell facility, to be managed as part of the Michoud Operations, will be located in a three-story L-shaped structure. The only major modification planned in the building will be the addition of a third floor in the present large high-room.

This will increase the building's total floor space to 60,000 square feet. The first floor and the large second floor will contain the computers, while the added third deck is planned for personnel and such light equipment as data plotting devices, data printing units and small data handling machinery.

Also included in the 13-acre fenced-in tract is a maintenance building and a 600 by 1,000-foot paved parking lot.

It is later planned that an automatic data transmission system or microwave link will be installed between Slidell and Michoud.

Charles L. Lott, left, vice president and general manager of Southern Bell in Mississippi, presents the National Safety Council's Award of Honor from Free Press to John C. Underwood, plant manager for Southern Bell in Mississippi, who was presented the award for compiling 3,271,700 man hours between March 14, 1961 and February 6, 1962 without a disabling injury.

Former Resident Killed In Crash

Chester Schultz, 45, a native of Bay St. Louis and a resident of Gulfport for the past several years, was fatally injured in a traffic accident Monday night in Gulfport.

Schultz was reported dead on arrival at Gulfport Memorial Hospital after being pinned beneath the wreckage of his automobile in an accident at 9:40 p. m. at the intersection of Taylor Street and U. S. Highway 49.

According to State Ptn. I. R. Rippy, a 1959 Chevrolet pickup truck operated by Wallace Ridge-way of Moselle, Miss., and a 1947 Willys station wagon occupied by Schultz were involved in the accident.

The patrolman reported Ridge-way was traveling south on Highway 49 and the victim's car was being pushed westward on Taylor Street by a dump truck driven by Travis Lee Page when the accident occurred.

According to the officer, the Page truck stopped in the crossing area between the two lanes of Highway 49, but the Schultz vehicle continued into the highway. Ridge-way, booked on a manslaughter charge in Harrison County, was later released to the custody of Patrolmen Rippy and Archie Fairley of the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

An inquest jury empaneled by Harrison County coroner returned a verdict of death by an automobile accident.

Survivors are three sons, Jeffery Eugene Schultz, stationed in Germany with the U. S. Army; Lonnie Chester and Joseph Calvin Schultz, one daughter, Mrs. James B. Heverling, Bay St. Louis. Three brothers, Andrew R. Schultz, Potts town, Pa., Sanford J. Schultz, Gulfport, Truman Schultz, Fort Chaffee, Arkansas; two sisters, Mrs. F. W. Spicer, Orange Grove, Miss. and Mrs. Cecil C. DDD Just 'round the corner

Direct Distance Dialing, the new faster way to call long distance is just around the corner for telephone subscribers in Bay St. Louis.

This operation was first introduced in Englewood, New Jersey in 1951 and 10,000 residents of that town were given an opportunity to test this modern telephone miracle. Effective August 15, this service will allow Bay St. Louis subscribers to dial most of their own station-to-station long distance calls, perfected through the years of research and development, the new service practically puts the nation at your finger tips.

Before DDD could become a reality several things had to be done. Naturally, the first requirement is that everyone must have a dial telephone. Not everyone has dial service today; however, over 85% of all telephones are dial and that number is increasing.

Next it was necessary to assign these telephone numbers that would be universally accepted. We had the 2-5 numbering plan such as Jackson 6-9011, 2-5 and 5 numbers, or the all general calling plan - 956-9011.

Now with this uniform numbering plan in effect the entire dialing area within each of these areas is more than 100 in the United States and Canada. There are no two telephone numbers alike and all the areas are grouped by a three number code such as 601 for Mississippi.

Another major problem is in billing - how will a call be timed. This was another job for automation and the electronic equipment will time the calls on rolls of punched tape.

How does DDD work? Here, 1-2-3, is how the direct dialing system works:

1. First dial the directing code "1". This activates the long distance dialing equipment.
2. Then dial the three number code for the area in which the person you are calling lives. The area code for San Francisco is 415, Idaho 208 and South Louisiana 504.
3. Finally, dial the two letters and five numerals or seven numerals of the telephone you are calling. (When calls are made from Bay St. Louis to points within the state of Mississippi, it will not be necessary to dial the area code, just dial (1) and the person's telephone number.)

The operator still plays an important role in the DDD program. There are approximately 80 million telephones in the United States and Canada today, and human operators alone cannot hope to cope with the more than 3,000,000 long distance calls that go humming over the wires every day.

Special central office equipment has just been installed in Bay St. Louis to make direct distance dialing possible at a cost of more than $8,000. This is but a fraction of the total cost in bringing this service to Bay St. Louis.

Soft crab fishing is "Purser" right now. Some few crabs are being caught. However, flounder fishing has improved.

Low tides in Pearl River have been reported by old time fishermen as the lowest in years. However the tides did not effect fly fishing-it really helped.

Glad to hear that Bill Bertucci has been discharged from the hospital and is improving right along-Good luck Bill.

Sorry to hear of the recent death (by drowning) of Lewis Lester was a good sportsman and had lots of friends here about.

Wm E. Brown caught 23 specks off the highway bridge over the weekend. He said they were good size. According to reports fishing on the bridge is improving.

If you expect to fish in Louisiana, better see Lawrence and get that La. fishing license, the game warden are tough on the other side of Pearl River.

The makers of Arbogast fish lures give these 5-tips which will help you catch more fish:

1. Varying the speed of the retrieve gets better results than a steady pattern.

2. Know the characteristics, habitat and food preferences of the fish you are after.
3. Learn the contours of lakes and streams you fish-the drop-offs, holes, weeds and the location of underwater bars.
4. Know the temperature ranges most favorable to the species of fish and the depth at which these ranges are located.
5. Have a good selection of lures because fish are choosy and there is no perfect lure for all conditions... and that's why you will want an assortment of Arbogast lures in various colors in your tackle box-they get fish.

Arbogast baits are made by Fred Arbogast, Co. Inc., Akron, Ohio and are good baits-they have proven their worth with local fishermen who go after fresh water fish.

If you are a beginner with the fly rod it pays to know where to go after them and how to use

If you are a lover of fishing the Mississippi Gulf Coast, especially at Bay St. Louis, you will find the following tips most helpful:

Shell dealers list some causes and cures of 10 sounds, smells and other symptoms that often puzzle drivers

Even if your car's in good condition, it may act up occasionally. When puzzled, consult this chart. It doesn't cover every problem, but it will help with some of the more common ones.

DESCRIPTION	LIKELY CAUSE	WHAT TO DO
High-pitched squeal when you first start the engine.	1. Worn or glazed fan belt. 2. Loose fan belt. 3. Water pump seal needs lubrication.	1. Replace the belt if it looks worn. It could break. 2. Have the fan belt tension checked. A loose belt may not turn the generator fast enough to charge the battery. 3. Add Shell Cooling System Protector to radiator water.
Throbbing roar.	Damaged or worn muffler.	Replace muffler. Your Shell dealer can do this for you.
High-pitched erratic pinging noise—usually lasts just a few seconds. (Often called wild ping.)	Erratic combustion caused by glowing carbon deposits that flake off and ignite the fuel too soon.	Try Super Shell gasoline. It contains three anti-knock ingredients. One is TCP.* This famous Shell additive works to "fireproof" combustion deposits that could otherwise cause wild ping.
Screeching brakes.	1. Badly worn brake linings. 2. Glazed brake lining.	Any brake trouble should be checked immediately by your Shell dealer. It could be dangerous. If linings are badly worn or glazed, brakes should be relined soon.
Strong gasoline odor when you can't start the car.	Flooded carburetor.	Let the car sit a minute. Push the accelerator to the floor (don't pump it). Then try the starter.
Exhaust fumes. Most noticeable when driving in town or when your engine is idling.	Leaking tail pipe or muffler.	First, open a window—those fumes can make you groggy fast. Replace damaged part promptly. Note: Always have exhaust system inspected when your car is lubricated.
When cruising, dashboard generator light goes on—or ammeter needle continuously shows "discharge."	1. Broken fan belt. 2. Faulty generator or voltage regulator. Or loose connection in electrical system.	Stop at the first station to avoid running battery down. 1. Replace fan belt. Suggestion: Carry a spare belt—it could save you time and trouble. 2. Have electrical system inspected to locate the trouble.
Brake pedal action feels peculiar: 1. Pedal feels spongy. 2. Pedal slowly sinks to floor under pressure.	1. Air in brake lines. 2. Hydraulic fluid leaking past master cylinder piston.	Brakes with these troubles should be fixed immediately. Have your Shell dealer inspect your brake system.
Car pulls to either side: 1. When braking. 2. When cruising.	1. Water, oil or hydraulic fluid on brake lining; brakes out of adjustment. 2. Uneven or low pressure in tires.	1. Think back. If you've just driven through water, drive with caution until linings dry. Otherwise, have brakes checked soon—it could be dangerous. 2. Check tires for correct pressure. Do this soon. Under-inflation can also cause excessive tire wear.
Engine temperature suddenly passes the danger point on your dashboard gauge.	1. Broken fan belt. (You may hear the clatter when this breaks.) 2. Loss of cooling water.	Turn off engine. 1. Check fan belt. 2. To check coolant—follow these rules. Let engine cool down. Remove radiator cap slowly using extreme care to avoid scalding. Add water slowly with engine idling. Check for leaks.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2,822,212.

The Rev. Hubert H. Bordenave, O. S. B., pastor of Annunciation Church, Bogalusa, La., relative of the bride, who married the bride's parents, 25 years ago, performed the ceremony. The altars were decorated with bouquets of white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bridal gown of white organza applied with lace embellished in seed pearls.

The fitted bodice featured a round neck and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt in the back, fashioned with a flowing panel held in place by two large organza roses, formed a chapel length train.

Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of pearls and tapers. She carried white roses centered with an orchid.

Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. Mrs. Louis Dietrich, New Orleans, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Alice Banderet, Bay St. Louis; Kathleen Grass, Metairie, La., and Joyce LeBlanc, Green Cove Springs, Fla. White gladioli and white mums decorated the Knights of Columbus Hall for the reception following the ceremony.

The bride's table, covered with a linen cut work cloth held a four-tiered wedding cake topped with spun sugar bells, and pale pink sugar rose buds, flanked by crystal candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride's mother chose a short dress of aqua organza and Alencon lace. White accessories and an orchid corsage completed her attire.

"THE COUNTERFEIT TRAITOR" AT SAND THEATRE, GULFPORT

The stranger-than-fiction true adventure of Eric Erickson, number one Allied spy of World War II, are recounted in the Farberg-Seaton Technicolor production, "The Counterfeit Traitor" which is scheduled to open Saturday at the SAND Theatre. The dramatic suspense film stars William Holden in the title role and Lilli Palmer as his co-conspirator and the woman he loves.

Hugh Griffith, who last year won an Academy Award for his work in "Ben Hur," is co-starred as the British Intelligence officer who enlists the "traitor." He heads a brilliant supporting cast that includes some of the most prominent personalities in European stage and film circles.

"The Counterfeit Traitor" is the screen adaptation by writer-director George Seaton of Alexander Klein's best-selling novel concerning Erickson, New York-born, naturalized Swede who spied for the Allied High Command beginning in 1942 after the greater part of Europe had fallen to Germany. A resident of Stockholm, Erickson traveled to the interior of Germany, bringing back vital information on oil refineries for the Allies. The film concerns his hair-raising activities, his love affair with a charming German accomplice (played by Miss Palmer), his ultimate betrayal by a member of the Hitler Youth and his dramatic escape as he was pursued through Germany and Denmark and across the Kattegat River to the safety of Swedish shores.
